Cash In Transit

DAILY IN THE MEDIA we hear stories of robberies, attempted theft and incidents of concern. As a businessperson or an organisation these threats are real and have some level of impact on the way you do business.

If you are in business at some point that hard earned revenue/cash has to be taken to the bank. Are you currently taking that cash to the bank yourself or sending it with a staff member or an uninsured courier?

What happens if they get robbed, hurt or killed during this exercise? Worst case scenario you have now lost not only your earning but a human life. Was it worth taking the risk?

Amalgamated Security's Cash In Transit (CIT) operation provides secure and reliable transportation of money to/from any location in Barbados. Our services are tailored to suit the requirements of the customers, giving each customer peace of mind in knowing that their valuables are being transported in a secure fashion.

Customers who use Amalgamated Security's CIT services benefit from:

- Reducing their exposure to robberies and losses
- Protecting their staff from potential attacks and harm
- Collections and deliveries at their convenience
- Possible reduction in insurance premiums

Our Cash In Transit services are conducted by staff who are among the most experienced and trustworthy in the company. In addition to the extra background checking which these staff undergo, Amalgamated CIT staff are security professionals who have received specialised training for the demanding requirements of this service.

AMALGAMATED SECURITY provides armed escort services for your valuable cargo. (GP)

The armored trucks used by Amalgamated Security are the most sophisticated and secure in Barbados, designed to an international standard with the objective of being able to withstand attack. In addition, the design of our vehicles is intended to eliminate the visible exposure of all the cash, thus reducing any potential loss.

All of our vehicles are constantly monitored via global positioning system (GPS) tracking devices installed in all our vehicles. With the Amalgamated Inteltrack GPS system, the location and whereabouts of customers' cash and valuables are monitored from the point of pick-up, in transit, through to final delivery/destination. In addition there is constant communication between each CIT vehicle and the Amalgamated Control Centre.

All valuable cargo transported by Amalgamated Security in Barbados is covered by our insurance up to the individual customer's contract limit.

In addition to collecting customer deposits, Amalgamated Security also provides the delivery of coin and currency in any amount, to single stores and for customers with multiple outlets.

The Amalgamated Valuables Transport handles the movement of foreign currency from banks for export, the import of bank credit cards and the importation of jewels into Barbados.

With this breadth of experience available to your organisation, why would you want to take the risk of putting yourself or your staff in harm's way? We offer very attractive and competitive rates, and cater to small, medium and large organisations.

Give us a call and we will design with you a pick-up schedule that will be not only convenient, but affordable.
