

Amalgamated Security Services Ltd.

Regional Recognition Awards 2019

Programme for Public Law Enforcement

In partnership with the Association of Caribbean Commissioners of Police

Top Caribbean Crime Fighter:

First Place Winner - Detective Constable Shonel Cummings of the Royal Grenada Police Force receives her trophy in the category of Top Caribbean Crime Fighter from the President of National Organization of Black Law Enforcement (NOBLE) Vera Bumpers. Assistant Commissioner of Police Michael Francois also receives a cheque of USD $5000.00 from Mrs. Pamela Hosein, Chief Executive Officer of Amalgamated Security Services Limited.

Top Caribbean Crime Fighter:

First Runner-Up - (Ag) Detective Sergeant Kenval Bryan of the Royal Cayman Islands Police Service receives his trophy in the category of Top Caribbean Crime Fighter from the Commissioner of Police of the Royal Cayman Islands, Derek Byrne and Alexander Mc Donald, chairman of Crime Stoppers of the Caribbean Bermuda and Latin America.

Top Caribbean Crime Fighter:

Second Runner-Up - (Ag) Inspector Robert Joseph of the Trinidad and Tobago Police Services receives his trophy in the category of Top Caribbean Crime Fighter from Assistant Commissioner of Police Mc Donald Jacob and Vice President of the Association of Caribbean Commissioners of Police Steve Foster.

Top Caribbean Community Policing Officer:

First Place Winner - Inspector (Ag) Veldon Raguette of the Royal Antigua and Barbuda Police Force receive his trophy in the category of Top Caribbean Community Policing Officer from President of the Association of Caribbean Commissioners of Police Ian Queeley. Commissioner of Police of Royal Antigua, Atlee Rodney and Barbuda Police Force also receives a cheque of USD $5000.00 from Mrs. Pamela Hosein Chief Executive Officer Amalgamated Security Services.

Top Caribbean Community Policing Officer:

First Runner-Up - Senior Constable Esnard Flavius of the Royal St. Lucia Police Force receives her trophy in the category of Top Caribbean Community Policing Officer from Commissioner of Police Severin Moncherry of the Royal St. Lucia Police Force and Captain Errington Shurland, Executive Director of Regional Security Systems.

Top Caribbean Community Policing Officer:

Second Runner-Up: Constable Cerepha Bridgeman of the Bermuda Police Service receives her trophy in the category of Top Caribbean Community Policing Officer from the Commissioner of Police of Bermuda Police Service, Stephen Corbishley and NOBLE member and New York City Police Department Detective, Michelle Tege.

Top Caribbean Career Move:

First Place Winner - Superintendent of Police Dr. Mashama Sealy of the Royal St. Lucia Police Force receives her trophy in the category of Top Caribbean Career Move from Chief Steven Casstevens of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. Commissioner of Police Royal St. Lucia Police Force Severin Moncherry also receives a cheque of USD $5000.00 from Amalgamated Security Services Director and Chief Special Services Officer Mr. Edgar Aboud.

Top Caribbean Career Move:

First Runner-Up - Superintendent of Police Na'imah Astwood of the Bermuda Police Service receives her trophy in the category of Top Caribbean Career Move from Commissioner of Police Bermuda Police Service Stephen Corbishley and Robert Price Assistant Legal Attaché Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Top Caribbean Career Move:

Second Runner-Up - Acting Chief Inspector Everton Spence of the Royal Cayman Islands Police Service receives his trophy in the category of Top Caribbean Career Move from Commissioner of Police Royal Cayman Islands Police Service Derek Byrne and Michael Jones of Executive Director CARICOM IMPACS.

On a yearly basis Amalgamated Security Services invites 25 member countries of the Association of Caribbean Commissioners of Police (ACCP) to nominate top performers within their respective Police Forces for the Amalgamated Security Services Limited (ASSL) Regional Recognition Awards Programme for Public Law Enforcement. The winners are selected by an independent panel of international judges. The awards are intended to publicly recognize police officers who by their efforts have contributed significantly to crime reduction; to the enhancement of the community relations; to the improvement of general safety and security; and who have made and overall difference in their police forces, communities and by extension nationally and regionally. Amalgamated Security is proud to have established a sustainable and impactful programme that positively contributes to the motivation and dedication of Caribbean police officers. Congratulations not only to our awardees but to all the officers who continue to keep the Caribbean region a safe environment.

The 2019 Awards Ceremony took place during the ACCP's (Association of Caribbean Commissioners of Police) 34th Annual General Meeting and Conference in Grand Cayman, Cayman Islands. Amalgamated Security invited all awardees to an all-expenses paid trip to Grand Cayman to be publicly recognized in front of the attending commissioners of police, international law enforcement officials and other invited guests.

WWW.ASSL.COM
WWW.ASSLREGIONALAWARDS.COM

Trinidad & Tobago Barbados Grenada
St. Lucia Antigua & Barbuda Guyana